Inside Scoop...

Spring is a time for renewal and new life. Usually we start to see kittens as things warm up, but unexpectedly, in February, we received two pregnant dogs. One was surrendered from someone who lives in a neighboring county and the other was found by a local resident on an out-of-state road trip. Next thing we knew, puppies were born, thankfully in one of our foster homes. At the time of this writing we are expecting the second round of puppies soon. Everyone loves pictures and videos of puppies and kittens and they are so sweet to cuddle.

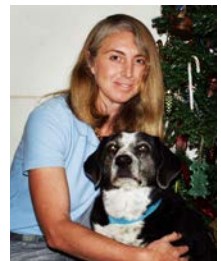

Yet here at the shelter we see the results of unintended breeding, which sadly often results in homelessness for litters of puppies and kittens and their moms. We are fortunate to live in a community that responds to this plight in effective ways. We receive donations and grant support to ensure that every shelter cat and dog is spayed or neutered prior to adoption. We have foster homes that take on the incredible work of caring for pregnant and nursing cats and dogs and their kittens and puppies. We have adopters that open their homes to these animals once it is time for them to find new hopes. Here in Chaffee County, this equation works, and we are able to save 98% of the animals that come through our doors. Not all communities are so fortunate and we don't have to look far, whether it is a drive through New Mexico or a visit to the crowded shelters on the Front Range, to see the unfortunate effects of unintended breeding. As some of you reading may remember, not far ago in our history, Ark-Valley Humane Society was also crowded with unwanted dogs and cats.

In the early 2000s, when I first volunteered at AVHS, animals were turned away at our doors for lack of space. With the growth of AVHS's spay and neuter programs that offer free services to Chaffee County pet owners, coupled with the growth of funding to support these programs, we have seen a drop in the number of unwanted litters. Two-thousand-seventeen was the first year in AVHS's history that we had kennel space to transfer in cats from another shelter. Last year, while successfully operating as an open admission shelter for Chaffee County, 15% of dogs and cats received at AVHS came from outside of our county. It feels amazing to be able to not only help all local homeless animals, but to extend that help to neighboring counties when space allows. These live-saving successes wouldn't be possible without the help of our wonderful foster parents, adopters, and donors. Thank you for your support!

Sincerely,

Amber van Leuken

In Memory of Phyllis Kittel

We lost an amazing AVHS supporter this winter when Phyllis Kittel passed. She had been involved with the shelter immensely as a volunteer, foster, board member, and donor. Phyllis was inducted into the AVHS Hall of Fame in 2018 for her outstanding contributions to AVHS over the years. Additionally Phyllis established a legacy endowment for the continued support of AVHS. We want to celebrate the vibrancy that Phyllis brought to the shelter and everyone she knew. She is dearly missed. Her family plans to hold a memorial for her in July.

Thank You to the employees of Collegiate Peaks Bank in Salida who gave over $575 in dog food and toys as Christmas gifts to the animals of AVHS! We are so thankful for your generosity!

3rd Annual Bow Wow Film Festival

We saw a record turn out at our 3rd time hosting the Bow Wow Film Festival with the Salida SteamPlant. Almost every seat was full! The variety of short films were emotional, uplifting and educational. At intermission Executive Director Amber Van Leuken and staff took the stage and announced the great news that long-time resident Bubba had been adopted that day, Board Member and AVHS foster/adopter Sarah McMahan brought her dog Ellie up and spoke of her experience training a partially blind and deaf dog, and some fun raffle prizes were given away! We can't wait to see what next year's Bow Wow has in store! Thanks for everyone who came out! You helped us raise over $1400 for the shelter!

Volunteers Betty & Susan retire after over 15 years of service

For 16 years Betty Brooks has been involved in helping the cats at the Ark-Valley Humane Society. For 10 of those years she fostered several kitten litters in her home. Betty says, "It was such fun naming the kittens, which at that time all their names had to start with the same letter." She would be told you have the "S" litter, and she and her granddaughter, Laura, had fun thinking up names. She set aside one of her rooms in her house for this purpose until they were old enough to interact with her two cats, who also came from the Ark-Valley Humane Society. She felt it was very important to socialize these kittens and introduce them to various household noises and even her daughter's dogs, so they would become very adoptable. One of the most interesting times was when she was given a pregnant mother one late afternoon and by early morning the next day the cat had a litter of five.

All was going well until three days later the mother, who had been a stray, just couldn't feed the babies and all seemed lost. Her daughter, Susan Wolfe, quickly called a local vet who was a friend who told her to start feeding all the cats a mixture of mashed banana and Karo syrup. It revived all of them, but then hand feeding of the kittens had to be done every few hours around the clock for weeks. "We saved them all!"

During her 16 years of volunteering, she began cleaning the cat cages twice a week, but after four years chose Sunday mornings as her only day. About this time Susan joined her and for the last 12 years they have cleaned together or covered for each other when one or the other had to go out of town. During the 12 years Susan Wolfe has volunteered, she also fostered animals, including a litter of rabbits and a litter of puppies.

Susan says, "The danger of fostering these animals is that I fall in love with them and end up keeping some of them. I have owned two of the rabbits, two of the dogs and five of the cats." This month Betty turns 90 and she feels it is time to finally "retire".

It's getting harder to get up on the stepstools or down on the ground to clean the cages, though she intends to continue coming in and spending time petting the cats.
